The Mercurio del Vapor of Valparaiso, June 17th, discusses the subject of the intervention in Cuban affairs. It disapproves of the argument used in favor of Chili taking an active part against Spain, on the ground that it would break through that treaty proposed by the Washington Cabinet in March, 1865, and to which Chili acceded in June 30th of the same year.

Another Democratic Shift.

We would like some cooked indicated that might satisfy our Democratic friends. They have waited long and patiently enough to deserve a little gratification. But the great difficulty is in the query, how can we do it? It will be remembered that when Mr. Sumner's speech had been digested by the Democracy they all at once pounced upon him for endeavoring to incite war with Great Britain, and charged that the Republican party were too anxious and too exacting in the matter of the Alabama claims. The denunciations were loud and long upon such a policy. Many leading Democrats even went so far as to assert that we could never obtain redress from Great Britain, that the claims were too enormous, and that the people would not sustain any measure that might, however remotely, on danger the peace existing between the two countries. Such was the "talk" when Mr. Motley sailed for England with the supposed authority to present the claims for immediate and final settlement.

Mr. Motley has now been there several weeks. He has not presented the claims; has not even indicated a summary policy on the part of our Government. This may have been the result of a desire to gratify our Democratic friends. At any rate it seems to accord with their ideas of the "settlement," as it does also with those of most Republicans, who believe our Government will be stronger at some future time by holding these unsettled claims over England. So it would seem almost everybody ought to be satisfied. But not so; the Democracy are not satisfied with their own position. The Portland Argus has the assurance, even so soon, to charge that the administration is purposely delaying the settlement, and to say that the claims ought to be promptly presented. A month since they were crying out against the Government for a supposed intention to crowd the issue upon England; now they are angry because it has not hastened the adjustment!

Truly, the ways of Democracy are past finding out. Having no policy, it lives upon castaway ideas. From a once great party it has become a faction of growlers, shifting with every little gust, whose mission is to drag, as a more dead weight, at the heels of modern improvement and liberal principles. Can such a party be trusted in an age of enlightened enterprise, like this?

It is quite apparent from indications everywhere that New England is at present the best place for mechanics in the country. There are very few out of employment and wages are very good. It is far different out West. Our mechanics have got in such a habit of migrating to the West as soon as they get ready for business that they go without reason, and now the West, which used to give such lucrative openings to skilled labor, is overflowed with it. There are too many men in the Western cities for the work that offers. A letter from Chicago, published in the New York Times, states that the compiler of the new directory estimates the population of that city at 350,000, but the writer is of the opinion that the next census will not give to that lively and enterprising city over 300,000 inhabitants. This will be an increase of two hundred per cent. in ten years, and ought to suffice even the aspiring Chicagoans. The same writer says there are altogether too many people there now. "Thousands are out of employment; every department of labor and business is overcrowded. I was told only yesterday by a master builder that he presumed there were three thousand carpenters alone in the city out of work. And I know that within a week I have lent or given, more out of my own pocket to two able-bodied mechanics to buy bread for their suffering children." From nearly all parts of the West the same complaints come to us. Business has been overdone, cities have grown too rapidly, real estate has gone up unreasonably, a reaction is inevitable, and the consequence is hard times for mechanics and a good deal of suffering. The mechanics of New England are in better circumstances than the same class anywhere else in the world.

Don Carlos who has begun a struggle for the Spanish crown which threatens to plunge that unhappy kingdom in civil war, is a son of Don Carlos the Pretender, and is now 31 years of age. On the 13th inst. he succeeded in evading the vigilance of the French police who were placed to watch his movements, and although hotly pursued, made good his entry into Spain. Successive telegrams have proved the fact that his party is of considerable magnitude and dispersed throughout the country. His political opinions are Bourbonized to the last degree, and his advent to power would be a great curse than the people of Spain have yet been called upon to bear.

Senator Sumner is evidently earnest in wishing that the Government shall pursue its neutral course in the Cuban question and is reported as favoring an effort to negotiate in behalf of the Cubans for their purchase of their own island. His sympathies are cordially with the patriots in the Antilles—but he does not disguise that one negotiations with Great Britain would be compromised by the smallest official concession to their cause.

The Chicago Tribune makes fun of Rhode Island and says if the three Congressmen from Little Rhody could sleep in the same bed, in that State, "it would be found before morning that one had rolled out into Massachusetts and the other into Connecticut, while the third had spilled through the slats into Narragansett Bay."

Horace Greeley having been accused by a Democratic paper of lobbying at Albany last winter, does not feel mortified in the least but says:

> The statement is a wholesale fabrication, and its author is a habitual and self-proclaimed liar. I have neither time nor taste for dealing with his calumnies in detail. Let this suffice for them all. H. G.

From the Whig and Courier.

Has Bangor a Legal Right to Raise Money for the Purpose of a Centennial Celebration or to Bring the Water of Hat Case Pond into the City?

I think not. By the act of incorporation of the city of Bangor, sec. 1, it is provided that the inhabitants of the town of Bangor shall continue a body politic and incorporate by the name of the city of Bangor, and as such shall have, exercise and enjoy all the rights, immunities, powers, privileges and franchises, and shall be subject to all the duties and obligations now existing or pertaining to or incumbent on said town as a municipal corporation or appertaining to or incumbent upon the inhabitants or officers thereof, &c.

The powers of the city of Bangor, except as otherwise provided by its charter or by law, are the same as those of all towns.

Can a town raise money for a purpose by sec. 26 of ch. 3, R. S.—The inhabitants of towns at a legal meeting may raise such sums as they may judge necessary for the maintenance and support of the poor, and the necessary charges for making and repairing highways and town ways, and bridges, for purchasing or building engines and apparatus for the extinguishment of fires, for the exclusive use of its fire companies, and for other necessary town charges.

And the municipal corporation derives its powers from, nor are they exercised upon, Legally county commissioners, in Mr. 377, authorized to raise money for the purpose of bringing water from Hat Case Pond into the city, and in a Centennial Celebration must rest upon this same authority alone. And there is but one phrase in that does not at first blush exclude such right, and that is the phrase, "and for other necessary charges." Can anything from this phrase therefore be implied that can be derived, if any exists, to tax the citizens of Bangor for a Centennial Celebration or for drawing water from Hat Case Pond.

If so, then, a Centennial Celebration is one of "other necessary town charges" arising from Hat Case Pond water, and the city council has no authority to expend money for the purpose of a general assessment to defray the expenses?

And can we not get along, a hundred years without the water from Hatcase Pond, comfortably, prosperously even, as heretofore. If we can, then it is not a necessary town charge to tax the citizens for it. But if we cannot have the water without it, then it is not a necessary town charge

New York Items

NEW YORK, July 29.

The Baltic Fire Insurance Company failed yesterday. It commenced business in 1861 and has never paid a dividend, the expenditures having always exceeded the receipts. The deficiency in capital was disclosed last winter of $30,000, in consequence of which the Company has retired from business.

The United States Assistant Treasurer will commence next week to report the receipts, payments, and balance in gold and currency separately.

Jay Gould, James Fisk, Jr., F. A. Lane, Wm. Tweed and Peter B. Sweeny, have purchased the controlling interest in the stock of the 10th National Bank, which it is reported will become a depository of the Erie Company and New York city funds.

The examination in the case of George A. Abbott, shows that in addition to their forgeries of the Rock Island certificates, he had altered some Michigan Central certificates to larger amounts, but he was arrested too soon to attempt the disposal of them and that he had ordered the purchase of some Pacific mail stock, probably for a like purpose. Abbott was refused bail and committed for trial. This is one of the greatest swindles ever attempted, the amount involved being nearly $700,000.

2. He also counseled them to commune much, all earnestly and prayerfully, with the oracles of divine truth; to make their intelligence and their studies devout; to see to their personal christian character and to realize that it was a responsible office to which they were called.

With words of sympathy and love, he closed with the prayer of the apostle—Now the God of peace, that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, that Great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant, make you perfect in every good work to do his will, working in you that which is well pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory forever and ever. Amen."

Prayer by Rev Charles W. Morse, of the Methodist Church, Gardiner.

Benediction by Dr. Pond.

EVENING.

At 7½ o'clock, the Rhetorical Society, and Society of Inquiry on Miracles held a meeting in the Hammond Street Church, and were addressed by Hon. Thomas Russell, of Boston.

After a voluntary on the organ by Mr. Johnin Sewall, of the Seminary, and devotional exercises led by Rev. Joseph Smith, of Buxton Center, the orator, Judge Russell, announced as his theme—"The Scholar in active life."

He showed how necessary an active life was to the full developments of the scholar's power; and how contact with the world, engaging in all that concerns the welfare of the race, ennobled the scholar, and ennobled learning, giving dignity, direction and power to whatever it came in contact, whether employed in teaching the humblest child, or guiding the affairs of nations.

Many interesting sketches were given of scholars in different ages, who, as politicians, statesmen, patriots, ministers, and in all the walks of life, added greatly to the welfare and prosperity of communities, and nations. Among these are John Milton, Andrew Marville, Sir Isaac Newton, Daniel De-Foe, Dante, Victor Hugo, Mazzini, and Gladstone; and in our own country, John Quincy Adams, as an example among the dead, and Charles Sumner, among the living.

The speaker extended his illustrations to the scholars of the people, showing that they were the leaders of the people. He paid a loving tribute to the Pilgrim Fathers, who by their learning and piety laid deep the foundations of our government.

The benediction was pronounced by Dr. Pond.

At a meeting of the Trustees of the Seminary, Rev Stephen H. Hyver, of South Weymouth Mass., was elected a Trustee in place of Rev. Elijah Jones, of Minot, deceased; and Hon. Simon Page of Hallowell, in place of Hon. George Downes, of Oakland, deceased.

At the meeting of the Alumni, Wednesday, afternoon, reference was made to the decease of their number during the year. Rev. Benjamin Chapman Chase (Alumnus 1840,) in Foxcroft, Oct. 19, 1868, aged 49 years; Rev. John Albert Perry (1840) in Guilford, Oct. 18, 1868, aged 66 years; Rev. Hurlcock Craig, (1847) of New Bedford, Mass., who died in Neufchatel, Switzerland, Nov. 28, 1868, aged 45 years; Rev. John Orr, (1838) in Melrose, Mass. Jan 7, 1869, aged 56; Eli P. Littlefield (1849) in Wells, Jan. 11, 1869, aged 47; Rev. Elijah Jones, (1820) and member of the Board of Trustees of the Seminary from 1839, who died in Minot April 29, 1860, aged 79; and Rev. Lemuel Chandler Spofford, (1836) in Fort Porto, Indiana, April 12, 1869 aged 58 years.

—Yesterday was all kinds of a day, mostly rainy.

POLICE COURT.—Thursday, July 29th.—John George was brought in for being drunk and fined $3 and costs.

Emma A. Gulliver was fined $5 and costs, for assault and battery.

Wm. Johnson, a seamen belonging to the Lark, Chancellor, was arrested for deserting the vessel, and sent to Jail till wanted by the Cabtain.

DAMAGE BY LIGHTNING. We learn from Geo White, who returned from Bath yesterday, that lightning struck the new Court House, knocking down the vanes and damaging the cupola. About a mile of wire and post of the Western Union Telegraph Line was also destroyed. Gen. Fuller, of this city, left the cupola only a moment or two before it was struck.

Our officers are negligent of their duty, and the laws are not properly enforced as to the sale of larceny. Right under our very eyes are cases of thieving, and yet the culprits go free. Yesterday morning the Southerly wind lifted the roof from the barn of a lady living Kenduskeag bridge, and quietly rested beyond reach, finally depositing his body in the stream. No officers forward to see to the enforcement of the law, and no fear of punishment could make the guilty return. And yet we have notes on hand and arraignment before Judge Clark, in court, and we have every reason to believe that all these cases will be properly enforced.

PETITION FOR A LIGHT HOUSE AND FOG WHISTLE. A petition is in circulation among the voters and owners of vessels navigating in the waters of Penobscot Bay, that a light and fog signal may be placed upon Pond Point Island, in the Muscle Ridge Channel (so-called).

One important fact stated in connection with the necessity existing for a light and fog signal at this point is, that during the year ending June 30th last, forty one thousand four hundred and one vessels passed Owl Head in the day time, and fourteen hundred of vessels navigating these waters have been lost during the same time.

GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC. The semi-annual meeting of the Department of Maine, G. A. R., will be held Wednesday, July 28th, at Head Quarters Sedgwick Post No. 1, of Bath. The attendance is good, considering the busy season, and a warm interest was manifested in the proceedings. The meeting was called to order by Gen. O. L. Bean, Department Commander, at 3 o'clock P. M., and after receiving the Adjutant General and Quartermaster General from reading their reports until evening, the session was occupied in discussing various matters of business pertaining to the order, but of no special interest to outsiders, until 6 P. M., when the meeting adjourned until 8 o'clock, after having accepted an invitation to an excursion to the Islands on Thursday, extended to them by comrade Post Sedgwick, and paying a vote of thanks for the same. At the evening session the reports of the Adjutant and Quartermaster Generals were read, showing the order to be in a flourishing condition, there being now nearly fifty posts in the State, and most of them in efficient working order. The encampment was instructed in the new Ritual, recently adopted by the National Encampment, which is very fine and was much praised. So great was the interest shown that the session was prolonged until near midnight. Wednesday forenoon the delegates were treated with carriages by Post Sedgwick, after partaking of a bountiful collation at the residence of Comrade Gen. T. W. Hyde, who is now in the city. Various points of interest in the city, and ship Colonel Chamberlain were particularly admired. A fine bend of life-sized figure of the Goddess of Liberty, Major General's uniforms, and the face is a perfect likeness. It is the work of one of the convalescents of Post Sedgwick. The Orphan Asylum, under the charge of Mrs. Mayhew, is well known in the Army of the Potomac for her untiring and self-sacrificing labors for the sick and wounded during the war, seemed as cozy and homelike a place as one might wish to see. Thursday morning the Encampment started for the Islands in the steamer Lewiston.

ANOTHER BIG FISH STORY! A correspondent of the Ellsworth American says: On Friday last week, Capt. Justice Bickford of Frenchman Harbor, in Gouldsboro, fitted out his whale boat from the shore, and in a very short time was the captor of a leviathan of the deep,—a humback whale, seventy feet in length. It required seven boats and their crews to tow him in.

The Saco Independent says that Capt. Tabor, keeper of Wood Island Light, has a cow which has given a good return for board and lodging. She gave last season over 300 pounds of butter, and the year before upwards of 250 pounds; in each case, reckoning towards the close of the season her milk with that from other cows, and no account taken of the product, so that "obsequy" must have produced the material for upwards of 700 pounds during the two seasons.

NEW PERRONT ITEMS. The Maine Mission Hotel was erected Wednesday in our village by the Second Adventists, under which that denomination propose to hold a tent meeting for two weeks. The tent is capacious and a large attendance is anticipated.

New potatoes are plenty and are being retailed for 40 cents per peck. Eggs scarce and retail for 27 cents per dozen.

The Gospel Banner says: "A line from Dr. Battles informs us that his society has raised $60 for the Missionary fund and $15 beside as a present to a Canton Student. The Bangor society and its pastor are no longer behind in good works."

At Trenton Point on Mount Desert, are two caves, oven-shaped, with a passage between them under ground. Like the Devil's Cave or Mount Desert they are dry at low water, and accessible at high water only by boats. A Boston lady has recently bought the strip of shore upon which they are situated.

The Tremont and Kilsworth Telegraph line is having quite a run of business. The profits of its paying a good dividend to their fortunate owners.

At Westbrook 24th inst., was launched from the yard of Ralph Kelley, by J. S. Winslow & Co. a barque of 550 tons, named the Samuel E Spring, owned by the builders and Messrs. S. & E. Spring, Charles Stanwood, and others of Portland.

—Trenton Point, five miles north of Bar Harbor, is noticeable for clam beds, which are acres in extent. Out of the shells have been dug at various times, several Indian skeletons, a party of young men last year unearthing five upon one occasion. The remains were in a good state of preservation; all buried upon their backs, about two feet under ground, heads to the westward and hands crossed upon their breasts. The astonished resurrections, re-interred them without delay, having satisfied their curiosity.

The Pioneer says it is proposed to run a stage from Hamilton to Lincoln on Sundays, in order to give passengers a chance to arrive in Bangor by that Monday morning train from Lincoln if necessary.

"THE BEST TIME ON RECORD." The Houlton Pioneer says, this item: "On our return from New York last week, we claim to have made the best time between the two points, viz: from New York to Houlton, in 36½ hours. We left New York at 5 o'clock P. M., Wednesday, and arrived in Houlton at 2½ P. M., Friday, via E. & N. A. railway from Bangor to Lincoln Centre; by the first regular passenger train to that point. At Lincoln Centre the stage coach was waiting to carry passengers and mails to the Point, where it arrived about 'slow twelve,' being 16½ hours from Boston."

—An Augusta dispatch informs us that Samuel C. Hatlay, County Attorney for Kennebec County, died yesterday morning in his office while sitting in his chair, in an apoplectic fit. He was a young man and leaves a wife and one child.

—Oliver Optic's Magazine "Our Boys and Girls," is just issued for August 7th, and is full of good things.

SUDDEN DEATH. The Portland Advertiser says that Augustus W. Son of Benj. Knight, of that city, was found dead in his bed Wednesday morning. He had been complaining for several days and had received medical treatment, but was not confined to his room. The night before he retired as usual, and about 2 o'clock the next morning his mother rose and gave him his medicine and afterwards heard him moving about. At half past five she got up and went to his room and found him dead, having been so apparently about an hour. A post-mortem examination showed that the blood had clogged around the heart.

—A little "temperance meeting" was occasioned in the family of Henry Gardiner, of Portland, the bowing his love for his butter baby by running a knife beside through her hand, while in a drunken frenzy, says the Argus.

—Mr. Longfellow recently made a brief speech in England, in which he claimed to be a Cumberland man. But when the English Hour Boat" he could, he added, quietly, "The county of Cumberland, in the State of Maine, three thousand miles from here!" which we believe by a fair majority.

—The celebrated yacht Henrietta, owned by James Gordon Bennett, Jr., which won the race at winter race across the Atlantic, and a little trial of pace with the Juliet of the Portland Yacht Club, Capt. Henry H. Forbich, from Newport, R. I. to New London, Conn., and the race was won by the Juliet, the making thirty-five minutes quicker time than the Henrietta. No allowance was given. The Henrietta is about 216 tons, and the Juliet about 70, says the Press.

—While Mr. O. C. Frost was passing home from his hay field in Bethel on Friday, his horses became unmanageable and ran over a rock, which instantly upset the cart and load of hay, and precipitated Mr. Frost, who was on it, down the river bank, which was there high and steep, some thirty feet, among rocks, stumps, etc., but strange to say no one got with but a slight injury in the back. The horses were caught by Mr. O. York, who was near by, just in time to save them from breaking down the bank by the Ark.

—The Edgewood American says: Mr. Hale, our Representative to Congress, has left his office, where he has been busily engaged since his return from Washington in the spring with his law business, to spend a few weeks on a trip to Lake Superior."

—The American learns that Mr. B. F. Lang of Boston, the eminent organist and pianist, has been prevailed upon to give a first class concert in the new Hall in Rockworth, on the evening of August 27th next. Mr. Lang will be assisted by some of the best musical talent in the country, making the concert what would be considered first class in any city.

—The Commercial Bulletin has the following deserved notice: "One of the oldest saw manufacturers in the country, is M. Schwartz, of Bangor. He began the business there in Boston in 1839, in August, 1851, he removed to Bangor, where he has since remained and built up an extensive trade. In February, his factory was damaged by fire, but within three weeks was repaired and in full operation. The saws of his make have a wide reputation, being ordered from all parts of the United States, including California. He manufactures mill, gang mulay, circular saw, which, owing to his peculiar mode of grinding, do their work in the most satisfactory manner."
